

Introducing Victory Vault: A New Way to Support the Central York Girls Hockey Association and the Central York Panthers!

Win thousands in cash prizes while ticket proceeds fund the CYGHA and directly help our young athletes. Victory Vault, launching November 26th, offers Ontarians weekly chances to win cash prizes while supporting young athletes across the province.

Rising Costs, Falling Participation

According to the 2024 Jumpstart State of Play Youth Report, 47% of youth say cost is the number one reason they don't participate in sports—making affordability the single biggest barrier to play across Canada. Families report spending hundreds to thousands of dollars annually per child on sports, a cost that continues to rise—especially for hockey and competitive programs.

Where Victory Vault Steps In

Victory Vault's mission is to ease the financial burden of youth sports in Ontario by providing local clubs with a steady source of funding. This support allows clubs to offset costs that would otherwise fall on parents, helping to create a more inclusive and affordable environment for all young athletes.

How Victory Vault Works

Each week, participants buy tickets for a chance to win cash prizes. When they enter, they choose a local club or team to support—and every ticket helps fund young athletes in their community and across the province.
